In December 2020, the Isle of Man Government launched its Future Energy Scenarios Strategy to determine the pathways to meet the following: Electricity generation is responsible for approximately 33% of all greenhouse gas emissions on the Isle of Man, and a majority of this is currently sourced from fossil fuels (natural gas).

Green Hydrogen is generated from renewable energy and water to produce a gas that produces almost zero greenhouse gas emissions when combusted. To introduce hydrogen, a number of challenges need to be solved: we need hydrogen-ready boilers, hydrogen-ready networks, regulation changes and a steady surplus of renewable energy to make the gas.
