The field of transporting hazardous materials encompasses both caustic chemicals and more ordinary devices such as lithium-ion batteries. Though these batteries are standard electronics components, they still pose a danger for those nearby if the proper conditions are not followed for lithium ion battery shipping and storage containers.

To keep your battery in a good condition as long as possible, there are a few rules of thumb. Aside from not leaving it plugged in, most manufacturers say something like the following: Keep your battery unplugged at approximately 50% charged, on dry place at room temperature. Charge the battery shortly before you want to make a ride.
