Is kleptocracy a problem in the Palestinian political establishment?

At a hearing of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs in the United States Congress on 10 July 2012, titled "Chronic Kleptocracy: Corruption within the Palestinian Political Establishment," it was stated that there is serious corruption within the political establishment and in financial transactions.

What happened to the Palestinian government in 2006?

In the Palestinian legislative elections on 25 January 2006, Hamas emerged victorious and nominated Ismail Haniyeh as the Authority's Prime Minister. However, the national unity Palestinian government effectively collapsed, when a violent conflict between Hamas and Fatah erupted, mainly in the Gaza Strip.

How much money does the Palestinian Authority owe Israel?

According to the news article, "The Palestinian Authority has a monthly cash deficit of some $60 million to $70 million after it receives between $50 million and $55 million a month from Israel in taxes and customs duties collected by Israeli officials at the borders but owed to the Palestinians."

What is the current structure of the Palestinian Authority?

According to the Palestinian Basic Law which was signed by Arafat in 2002 after a long delay, the current structure of the PA is based on three separate branches of power: executive, legislative, and judiciary.

Are Palestinians tracking Islamic militants in the West Bank?

As of 2013, Palestinian security forces continue to coordinate with Israeli troops in tracking Islamic militants in the West Bank. The Gaza International Airport was built by the PA in the city of Rafah, but operated for only a brief period before being destroyed by Israel following the outbreak of Al-Aqsa Intifada in 2000.

Does the Palestinian Authority have exclusive control over security issues?

According to the Oslo Accords, the Palestinian Authority was designated to have exclusive control over both security-related and civilian issues [clarification needed] in Palestinian urban areas (referred to as "Area A") and only civilian control over Palestinian rural areas ("Area B").
