With an average of 1,900 to 2,400 annual sunlight hours, Romania has significant natural potential for solar PV development. Yet, the country has not set ambitious targets for renewable energy sources, aiming for only 30.7% of its final energy consumption to come from RES by 2030. For solar, this translates into an objective of 5.05 GW, which

Batteries are a great investment for homeowners, especially when paired with solar panels, for several reasons:

1. Energy Independence: Batteries store excess solar energy generated during the day, allowing homeowners to use that stored power when the sun isn't shining (at night or on cloudy days), reducing dependence on the grid. 2.

Romania's Minister of Energy Sebastian Burduja signed two grant agreements under Investment 4.3 and one agreement under Investment 4.2 of the National Recovery and Resilience Plan (NRRP), aimed at developing electricity storage capacities and promoting investments in the value chain of photovoltaic cells and panels.

Driving Solar Panel Manufacturing. In addition to enhancing energy storage, Romania is also focusing on boosting its solar panel manufacturing capabilities. With 33 million euros allocated for the photovoltaic panel factory in B&#226;rlad, the country aims to support the transition to clean energy while stimulating economic growth in the region.

However, it's worth noting that the solar industry isn't without its challenges. Some major players have faced difficulties, and between 3-4 million homes have solar panels installed by companies that have since gone out of business. This underscores the importance of choosing a reliable provider for your solar installation. A Call to Action

The case of Romania. The 1 GW of newly installed solar capacity in Romania this year marks a 308 percent increase over the capacity added in 2022. The cumulative distributed and utility-scale solar capacity of the nation has surpassed 2.85 GW in 2023, producing in excess of 2.5 TWh or almost 5% of the overall power generation.
