Solar energy is the cleanest and cheapest of all known energy sources. Around 10% of the 23,000 households in Seychelles have solar water heaters. If half the households in Seychelles fit a solar water heater, the country can save several million dollars per year.

In one day, the panel consumed 15.6 litres of water, sprayed over the panel when its PV module exceeded 45°C. This in turn heated the water to above 30°C, which was then fed to a water heating system, improving the system's overall efficiency. Some companies already offer commercial-scale photovoltaic solar water-cooling systems.

Solar system dimensioning: Sets of 3, 4 or even 5 rows of panels. Depends on weather conditions and the electrical design. Evaluation of the soil condition: If it is sedimentary rock, gravel, clay, etc. Then, deciding on the foundation type based on weather (wind and snow) conditions as well as size and weight of solar panels.

These systems consist of several major components: collectors, a storage tank, a heat exchanger, a controller system, and a backup heater. In a solar hot water system, there's no movement of electrons, and no creation of electricity. Instead, the solar panels, known as "collectors," transform solar energy into heat.
