

What is Uganda's Energy Transition Plan (ETP)?

While the focus of the report is from now to 2050, the ETP also highlights key steps to further the energy sector's decarbonisation beyond 2050 and estimates at what point the energy sector is poised to reach net zero. Uganda's Energy Transition Plan (ETP) is a strategic roadmap for the development and modernisation of Uganda's energy sector.

Is Uganda a 'just and inclusive' ETP?

Particular focus is paid to making use of the country's considerable energy and mineral resources, and parlaying this into economic development for Uganda, a core pillar to ensure the pathway in the ETP is a just and inclusive one.

What is Uganda's Vision 2040?

Uganda has set an ambitious agenda to develop its substantial energy and mineral resources, promote economic development, end energy poverty, and lead the country to a just energy transition. Uganda's stated objective in Vision 2040 is to transform into "a modern and prosperous country", ensuring a better future for its citizens.

What is Uganda's integrated energy resource master plan?

The plan was developed by Uganda's Ministry of Energy and Mineral Development, with support from the International Energy Agency, and provides the groundwork for the government's upcoming Integrated Energy Resource Master Plan.
